

WE NOMINATE

Thomas Buchan Hartmann, in his first year as a Princeton Township Committeeman and one of the "architects" of Rutgers University's rapidly developing Livingston College, the first in a grouping of three residential colleges in Piscataway Township. This summer the 47-year educator, Special Assistant for Urban Studies at Livingston and also associated with Rutgers' expanding Urban Studies Center, is playing a pivotal role in boldly conceived programs designed to help economically and educationally disadvantaged students adjust to college life when they enter the State University in the fall ahead.

In addition to his work at about-to-open Livingston, where 110 students are now taking part in courses in composition, social sciences and mathematics, as well as workshops in photography and television, Hartmann is particularly concerned with a program he helped structure, Rutgers' so-called "open-city policy." Under this innovation some 875 deprived students from the cities where Rutgers has campuses — Camden, Newark and New Brunswick — will be admitted to the university without regard for high school grades; the immediate problem is special instruction to make up for inadequate high school training.

Last fall Hartmann, whose reputation as an educator is based in large measure on his achievements at four outstanding secondary schools, and his able running-mate, James A. Floyd, the first black to hold elective municipal office in Princeton, made local political history. Together, by mounting and sustaining a near-flawless district-to-district campaign, they became the first "Democratic ticket" ever to sweep the traditionally Republican Township, outdistancing the G.O.P. incumbents, with the 46-year old Floyd the dominant figure in the field and with Hartmann some 170 votes ahead of the closer Republican, the former Township Mayor.

A native of near-by Somerville, and a graduate of Somerville High School and Phillips Andover Academy, Hartmann has divided his post-Princeton University years as a member of the war-harassed Class of 1945 between New Jersey institutions and distinguished service in Delaware, Texas and North Carolina. Four years of top-level faculty and administrative duty here at The Hun School were followed by five years as Dean of Students and Chairman of History at Tower Hill School, Wilmington, Del., a half-dozen years as Headmaster of the St. Mark's School of Texas, and then two years as first Principal (1963-65) of the newly merged Country Day and Miss Fine's Schools, now Princeton Day School.

In recent years Hartmann, a member of the Founding Board of the Princeton Youth Center, has earned respect as a perceptive specialist in urban affairs. At the time he was appointed to his present Rutgers posts he was Assistant to the Commissioner in the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs and also a member of the Governor's Select Commission on Civil Disorder. A consultant to the public affairs program of The Ford Foundation, he is a former deputy director of programs for the pioneering North Carolina Fund, founded to find new techniques for dealing with the poverty problems of the South.

For "seeking to establish ways of better using the resources of the community at large for both the formal and informal education of students and faculty," for insisting that individual problems must be dealt with effectively before they escalate into serious social ills; for trail-blazing in both secondary and higher education; he is TOWN TOPICS nominee as

12 Township Dogs Plead "Don't Fence Me In!"

"We have had a great deal of co-operation, much more than we anticipated," commented Assistant Dog Control Officer Dave Eliot plucking a poodle hair from his grey uniform shirt.

Mr. Eliot—sometimes called Deputy Dawg Junior because James Doherty, the Township's Dog Control Officer is called Deputy Dawg, is on duty from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and will be throughout the summer.

Both Deputy Dawgs are busy enforcing the township's new dog ordinance which went into effect July 1.

The tally so far: 12 dogs captured, 12 anguished dog owners issued summonses, 4 cats captured and 7 dogs—violation. Mr. Cherry suggested that the penalties start after actual conviction. As an example, he said that some teen ager working on a junk car might think it was out of sight when it really wasn't, and thereby pile up an astronomical fine.

The ordinance euphemistically called "an ordinance to regulate the storage of inoperable vehicles," states that unlicensed, inoperable cars can't be left around on public lots for more than 48 hours, or on private property for more than 30 days.

Police, asked to make a count, turned up 26 abandoned cars in the Township in a single day. Cars were scattered throughout the municipality and not in any one area, although 16 turned up in the southwestern and northwest sections, police said.

Housing Group. Six people have accepted appointment to the seven-member citizens advisory Council on Housing, announced Mayor Wallace. The session is still thinking is over.

Howard Fox, 140 Hunt Drive, president of Foxwood Homes, has been appointed chairman. Members are Mrs. Harold Kuhn, 74 Woodland Drive, active in housing for PAHR; Frank Wells, 53 Birch Avenue; and Mr. Ewing, who is on the University's Physical Plant staff; Gerald Brees, 195 Russell Road, urban planning expert and former chairman of the pardon, dogs — reported lost. No bites.

Dog owners who get a summons are subject to a fine from $1 to $50 for the first offense. If the dog is taken to a pound — and 10 of the 12 were: the other two were taken home because the pound was full — the owner has to get a $15 redemption slip from the Township Administrator's office. And owners must pay the boarding fee at the kennel. This is based on the size of the dog, so it's cheaper to let a dachshund run loose than a golden retriever. But the fine is the same, size or no size.

The first 12 offenders will appear next Wednesday, July 16, before Township Magistrate Burton Peskin.

Township Planning Board and Frank Quinby, 10 Monroe Lane, who is leaving his post as Township engineer on Aug. 1 to enter private practice.

No Parking. Parking will be prohibited on parts of Join Street under an ordinance introduced Monday night. Public hearing will be July 21. Parking would be banned on both sides of John from Leigh Avenue south to the Borough line, and on the west side from Leigh Avenue north to the end of John. Residents had protested that they had trouble getting out of driveways because of the parked cars.

Goyet Avenue will be widened, curbed and sidewalks from Linden to Ewing. Property owners won't be assessed for the width and the curbs, but they will pay half the sidewalk cost.

Who Cares? Contractors just don't seem interested in the 355 feet of Herontown Road the Township wants to lay down. The first two bids, last month, were tossed out as too high. The second time around, only one bidder bothered (Kingston Trap Rock) and he was too high, also. The bid was $16,345, which is about $3,200 more than the approved price.

Engineer Quinby told Committee he'd talk with the contractors, asking them pleas to bid, but everybody shrugged the job off.

Committeeman Harry J. Volwiler, who is a contractor himself, suggested that recent increases in labor costs about 2% might be the reason. The new bid at any rate, was tossed out and Mr. Volvender, Mr. Quimby and Administrator Joseph R. Nim will talk it over to see what next.

Radar is out, especially on Alexander Street, warned Councilman William L. Wilson. Between May 1 and June 17, Township police issued 11 summonses, about three a day, and Alexander Street trapped the most.

SCHOOL SITE HERE?
Hearing on Monday, The Princeton Regional School Board wants to have a parcel of Snowden Lane land pinpointed as a school site on the Township's Master Plan map, and a public hearing on the question will be held next Monday at 8 in Township Hall before the Planning Board.

Also on the agenda will be Princeton Theological Seminary's proposal for a 34-house cluster development on Mount Lucas Road and, possibly, the site-plan review report on the three office buildings proposed by the Park Lane Company for a spot farther south on Mount Lucas Road.

The board will also hold a public hearing on Timothy Sheehan's 91-acre Oak Hill cluster development north of Stuart Road and east of Cherry Hill. Mr. Sheehan's first 16-lot section will also be presented in its final plan.

The School Board wants the so-called Hall-Hudson tract of land, but the Hall estate and the Hudsons do not wish to sell. The property is next to the Van Dyke-Wright Open Space acreage, and it has been suggested that the school board build there, instead.

There is still a possibility, according to some Planning Board members, that the School Board and Open Space Commission could work out an agreement allowing construction of a school on that Open Space land.

The old Township School Board, in pre-merger days, had considered the Van Dyke-Wright land for a possible school, then rejected it in favor of the Poulet property on Cherry Hill Road, which is now on the Master Plan map as a school site.

When the School Board asked to have the Hall-Hudson land placed specially on the Master Plan map at a school site, the planners raised questions about traffic patterns and school bus routes in the area, and asked for school enrollment figures and population projections.
"We also asked," says Planning Board chairman Hans K. Sander, "whether the school people had considered alternative sites."

INVESTIGATION PUSHED

To Hit-and-Run Fatality
Members of the Township police, including Detective Norman Servis and Traffic Officer Sgt. Anthony Nini, are continuing their investigation of the death last week of Joseph Miller, 27, of North Brunswick.

Mr. Miller was found lying in the middle of Nassau street at 1:12 a.m. on June 27, the apparent victim of a hit-and-run driver. Detective Servis reported that an autopsy was performed by Dr. Edward Albano of Newark, Chief Medical Examiner for New Jersey. Cause of death was attributed to multiple chest injuries, according to Detective Servis. He added that the victim's heart had been punctured.

"At this point, we feel the victim was walking in the travel portion of the road," he continued. "The driver may have come upon him suddenly in the middle of the road." Police have ascertained the victim came into Princeton on the 10 o'clock bus from New York, alighting at Maple and Linden Lane at 11:30. They estimate he was struck between 12.35 and 1:05.

Seek Girl on Bus. Police are trying to locate a young girl who was a passenger on the bus with the victim. "Apparently, he was annoying this girl," Detective Servis said, adding, "We hope she will come to police headquarters and identify herself." He described her as between 5-5 and 5-8 and about 15 years of age.

Detective Servis also reported the police still have not heard from the driver of the car followed directly behind the bus, who they are hoping will contact them. He said that several residents have heard who had observed the victim walking in the road just prior to the accident.

Detective Servis said that the last person to see him said that the victim was walking in the travel portion of Nassau Street near the white line. He said police are still waiting for lab reports to determine whether he had been drinking.

$215 STOLEN FROM SAFE

In Garden Theatre, Richard Knight, manager of the Garden Theatre, told Borough police last week that between 7 and 9:30 p.m. on June 30, someone stole about $215 from an unlocked safe in the theatre.

The money, he said, was in a brown paper bag in a cash box. Sgt. John J. Bellow investigated.

Born F. Williams, 434 Mt. Lucas Road, told police that someone stole his wallet from the front seat of his car Thursday, during the few minutes he went into Davidson's Market to check a check. The wallet contained $12.

Rex Hume, 24 Charlton Street, reported the theft of a new battery last week from his station wagon parked in the Charlton Street lot. He valued the battery at $27.50.

APPEAL SHEEHAN?

No Decision Yet. The Borough will probably hold off any decision about appealing the Sheehan case until August 11. Mayor Henry S. Patterson said this week.

Last month, Judge Frank Kingfield of Superior Court ruled that the Borough had to give Timothy Sheehan a building permit for the office building he has started on the corner of Nassau and Markham Roads.

The Borough can deliberate its next move for 45 days from July 3, the date the formal judgment was signed by the court.

TOPICS Of The Town

NEW MEETING DATE SET
For School Board. Because of vacation schedules, the school board has set its July public meeting for next Tuesday, July 10, at least three members will be held in Community Park School.

The meeting would normally be held the last Tuesday in July but at least three members would be absent at that time, said Vice-president William Marvel.

The board decided on Monday night in executive session not to appeal the state's certification decision against Raymond F. Male.

Seven of the nine board members attended the meeting and it was agreed that any decision on the appeal should only be made when the full board membership can be present. Those absent Monday night were President John Marks and the Rev. C. Shelby Scott. The full membership probably won't be back in town until early September, according to Mr. Marvel.

"There was a little more harmony at this session of the board," Mr. Marvel commented. In a statement last week, he had expressed optimism that the board could be "re-knit" itself as a harmonious, working entity even though all its members were not in complete agreement.

For comment on Mr. Marvel's statement of last week, see "Mailbox," page 10.

OF SPEED AND TRAFFIC
In the Borough. The Borough's Traffic Safety Committee has made suggestions to Borough Council about easing some of Princeton's traffic snafus.

1. Ban parking on the east side of Chestnut from Nassau to Hamilton. Motorists on Chestnut frequently tangle with school buses or buses headed for Westminster Choir College, and even without buses, the street is a narrow one to negotiate.

Councilman Robert Hendry, who lives on Chestnut, says he and many other residents would rather have Chestnut one-way.

2. Ask the state for a traffic count to justify a traffic light at the Prospect-Harrison intersection.

3. Ban parking on the east side of John from the Borough Township line to a point 50 feet south. (The Township introduced this week a new ordinance regulating John Street parking in the Township.)

4. Ask the state to increase the Mercer Street speed limit from 25 to 35 m.p.h. It is 45 m.p.h. in the Township, and it's hard to slow down all of a sudden from 45 to 25. The proposed increase would be from Springfield to Lovers' Lane.

This suggestion has its pitfalls: the state wants the Mercer increase all the way to Nassau, which is a little too much in the eyes of Borough officials.

Park Here. At its July meeting Tuesday night, Council introduced an ordinance appropriating money from capital cash surplus to buy $500 square-feet of land from the Public Service substation on Wiggins Street.

The strip is to be part of middle-income housing planned by Princeton Community Housing. However, if that project doesn't go through, the land could accommodate 25 parking spaces. The price is $4,500 — $1 per square foot.

Councilman Charles Cornforth abstained because he works for Public Service. Public hearing on August 12.

Donald Harney, Borough engineer, recommended dumping a pair of street surfacing bids because they are too high. The Township has a similar problem: see "This Is Princeton."

The bids were for bituminous overlay on five Borough streets. The state pays 90%.

Captain Geoffrey Sage, director of Civil Defense, presented to Mayor Henry S. Patterson a check for $2,540.62, representing the balance of a $25,000 construction of Borough Hall. Federal money was obtained because of the Civil Defense sanctuary in the Borough Hall.

TOOTHPASTE ON HIS TOES! Such was the fate of Lazy Tom Pamphilethead, whose biography occupied a large part of the public library's first Monday-night Story Hour. The man with the book and the facts is, of course, John Counts. Monday night Story Hours begin at 7 p.m. and are open to all, free of charge.

Ordinances were approved making the superintendent of buildings and grounds the legal building inspector of the Borough. Bernard Glover, the superintendent, has been doing the job for years on a common law basis. Now he's legal.

The Borough's bonding counsel now has the ordinance for a new fire engine. It may be introduced next month. Engine cost: $90,000.

Robert Hendry, who is running for re-election to Borough Council on the Democratic ticket, however, if that project doesn't go through, the land could accommodate 25 parking spaces. The price is $4,500 — $1 per square foot.

FOURTH TERMED QUIET. By Police. "No problems." "Pretty quiet, in general."

The descriptions of the Fourth of July in Princeton were offered by Lt. Frederick Porter of the Township police and by Borough Chief Peter J. McCrohan.

"I understand there were a few cherry bombs thrown in the tunnel that leads to the track, but there was nothing in the stands," added Lt. Porter, commenting on the fireworks display in Palmer Stadium. "It was well covered by police," he said.

American Legion officials, incidentally, estimated the stadium crowd at 7,500 or about half the number that attended last year. However, because of an increase in admission fees, they reported the Legion was able to realize about as much money as last year.

Chief McCrohan said his department received numerous complaints of firecrackers going off, but pointed out, "It is hard to apprehend anyone." He added that a lot of kids were milling around on Nassau Street.

One, a 17-year-old Lawrence Township juvenile, was apprehended by Chief McCrohan at 10:15 and later released to his parents. He had eight firecrackers in his pocket when he was searched at police headquarters.

About 10 minutes to 11, chief McCrohan related four police officers walked down Nassau Street and cleaned it of kids. "We told them it was time to go home, and we didn't have any more problems the rest of the night," he added that "we had all the extra police officers we could get on duty in the area."

Traffic Fatality. In contrast to the nation, which set a July holiday record for traffic deaths, Princeton was free of serious accidents.

One area fatality occurred Tuesday afternoon when William F. Weir, 56, 236 State Road, when out of control on Lawrenceville Road, hit a car careened and hit a tree. His was the first reported fatality in the Princeton area in the four-day weekend. (Obituary, page 16.)

CARS PAINTED GREEN
By Juvenile Vandals. Nine cars parked in the Franklin Avenue area near the hospital were sprayed with green paint Monday night, allegedly by three juvenile boys Borough police caught in the area.

Police received the first report a few minutes after 9 from a man who said that his car, parked across from the hospital, had been sprayed with paint. He told police he had left a window partially open, and the vandals had reached inside and sprayed the interior, including a dog in the car.

Less than an hour later, two student nurses reported their cars had been sprayed. Police said they were able to remove most of the paint while it was still wet.

Pt. Anthony Ranfone and Ptl. Gerald Patterson checked the hospital lot and discovered six more had been sprayed. Police then searched the area and apprehended the youths, who, police said, had evidence of green paint on them. They were charged and released to their parents.

Later that evening, Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Ptl. Thomas Michael discovered that the doors and windows of the Princeton High School gymnasium had also been sprayed with green paint.

TRENTON MAN ARRESTED
For Littering. Richard T. Mastran, 22, of Trenton, was arrested for littering July 4th by Sgt. Theodore Lewis.

Sgt. Lewis said he was on foot patrol at 8:25 p.m. when he saw Mr. Mastran throw a paper cup on the sidewalk. He charged him with littering.

Police in the course of their investigation also discovered marijuana cigarettes in Mr. Mastran's possession. He was charged with possession of marijuana by Sgt. John J. Belton and released on $100 bail.

In the same area, police picked up and charged two youths with possession of alcohol in a car. They identified the driver as Marvin Jones, 18, of 30 Humbert Street; the second youth was a 17-year old juvenile.

They were arrested by Lt. Michael Carnevale on Nassau Street near Vandewater Avenue, and later released to their parents.

For Trenton citizens, Sixty-two Trenton youngsters began a week-long vacation on Wednesday in the surrounding towns of Mercer County, under the auspices of the Jaycees.
Host families in the "Jaycee Summer for Kids" include Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mami Gunkel of Princeton Junction, Dr. and Mrs. Fraser Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. John Achey, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett H. Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lindsay all of Princeton.

Families and children, up to approximately 400 persons, will have a picnic this Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. at the Yardville Civic Center, Hamilton Township. The picnic is sponsored by the five Jaycee chapters in the county, led by Chet Monti of the Hamilton Chapter.
The children were selected by three separate agencies in Trenton. Host families picked up 46 children at Mercer Street Friends, 10 at the Trenton Boys Club and six at the YMCA. The children will be returned to the respective agencies next Wednesday evening, July 16.

Continuing the spring and summer trend, July got off to a wet start Monday with about an inch of rain. The last three months had all provided above-normal precipitation.

The unusually cool weather that followed Monday's rain is on the way out but humidity is due with showers likely Friday. The weekend is expected to be generally fair and generally warm.

Farms, Skillman, $10
In an auction last week, Mary P. Kemp, 24, 46 Spring Street was fined $25 as a disorderly person. She pleaded guilty to using offensive language toward a state trooper who was a complainant in a traffic violation against her.

TREES VS. SUPERMARKET
In West Windsor, Princeton Junction neighbors of a new Acme market learned to their dismay last week that a buffer zone of trees between the store and their homes may be cut down, unless West Windsor Township can negotiate with Acme to save the trees.
The company has leased several acres near the intersection of Alexander and Princeton Hightown roads, in a zone that has been zoned "neighborhood business for more than 20 years." The zoning had never come before the township planning board before, and Acme leased the land "in good faith," according to board chairman Albert Lippmann.

Mr. Lippmann noted that the township cannot arbitrarily rezone the land, but he feels that it will be able to negotiate with Acme, because the firm will want to attract neighborhood business and thus not antagonize the residents.

Also at the planning board meeting, board member William Rauch outlined plans to zone the area for light industrial zoning in the north-west section of the township between Route One and the Clarksville Road. The residential areas would be moved south next to area already zoned residential. A public hearing on the matter will be held at the July meeting of the board.

$226,500 FEDERAL GRANT
For Lawrence Open Space, Lawrence Township received notice this week of a $226,500 Federal Open Space grant for its 17½-acre Port Mercer Conservation Area. The land is located between Princeton Pike and Route 1, off Route 1.

"It's great news!" Lawrence Committee member James Murphy said. "New Jersey is more densely populated than Japan, and we are trying desperately to create open space."

"I put this on the same level as the Great Swamp area in Madison Township. It's the greatest thing that's happened in conservation since they saved the Great Swamp!" He added, "It's too bad Princeton didn't get anything."

Mr. Murphy, director of recreation and conservation in Lawrence Township, says the grant will be preserved in its present state. "We're keeping some part of the original America."

The grant, announced by Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr., will be matched on a 50-50 basis by state funds.

Among the 13 communities whose open space grants total more than $1.50 million in Federal funds is Franklin Township, just north of Princeton, which received $144,662 for its 110-acre Demott Lane Recreation Area.

NEW PROGRAM STARTED
Youth Street Academies, A cooperative two-month program involving youth enrolled in the "street academies" recently established in three New Jersey cities, Newark, Paterson, and Trenton, is being undertaken this summer by Princeton University.

This new summer institute will give pre-college training and motivation to the participating teenagers and will provide as well a means by which the university can involve students and faculty directly with residents of New Jersey urban areas.

Backed by Federal and state funds, by the University and by gifts from University faculty and alumni and residents of Princeton, the program sent 11 undergraduate instructors in to the academy neighborhoods to launch four weeks of tutorials with 36 selected students — 12 in each of the three core areas. The student teachers will be joined from time to time by members of the university faculty. John Bailey, 51 Leigh Avenue, is among those students serving in the program.

In a month, the entire group, including a "street worker" from each academy, will transfer activities to the Princeton campus where, while living together in a dormitory, there will be a one-month resident program of teaching, counseling, creative arts and small-group seminars under the supervision of Princeton faculty members.

During the next academic year, the undergraduate teachers, 11 of whom are Princeton undergraduates, will continue to work with their academy students, who will visit the campus one day a week throughout the year. Most of the undergraduate teachers come from cities themselves or have had prior experience in similar programs. About half the Princeton volunteers are members of the Association of Black Collegians.

TWO FROM PRINCETON
Named University Trustees
W. Michael Blumenthal of 15 Haslet Avenue, and Dr. Robert J. Rivers of Rochester, a native of Princeton whose parents live at 21 Green Street, are among the four trustees of Princeton University whose election was announced this week by President Robert F. Goheen of the University.

Three of the four are Charter Trustees, and Dr. Goheen announced that from now on Charter Trustees will serve for a 10-year term only, and not until the age of 70, which has been the policy for some years.

Dr. Goheen said the change would allow greater diversity in age, interests and background among Trustees.

The new 10-year limitation on Charter Trusteeships provides for considerable continuity and for more frequent turnover in the composition of the board, he stated. "It should enable the board to encompass a wider representation of relevant fields of activity and to include more men who have demonstrated notable accomplishments early in life, and whose careers are still in the making, than has been the case normally in the Charter Trustee positions."

The new Charter Trustees are John Dorr, of the class of '44, president of the Bedford-Stuyvesant Development and Services Corporation of Brooklyn; Charles Scribner, class of '43, president of the publishing firm of Charles Scribner's Sons and Mr. Blumenthal.

Dr. Rivers, who will serve a four-year term, was graduated from Princeton in 1953 with honors in biology. He is the second black Trustee in the University's history and the first to be elected by the Board of Trustees.

The first black trustee was Brent M. Henry of the Class of '69, elected an Alumni Trustee this spring by the vote of the junior and senior classes and the two most recently graduated alumni classes.

Dr. Rivers, was graduated from Princeton High School. He received his medical degree from Harvard in 1957 and is now clinical instructor in surgery at the University of Rochester, practicing vascular and general surgery at four Rochester hospitals. He was formerly chief resident in surgery in the University of Rochester's Strong Memorial Hospital.

He is a diplomate of the National Board of Medical Examiners and was certified by the American Board of Surgery in 1965. He is a member of the boards of directors of the Urban League of Rochester, the Princeton Club of Rochester and the Medical Society of the County of Monroe. He is also a member of the American Medical Association and the Medical Society of the State of New York.

Mr. Blumenthal is president of Bendix International and directs the Bendix Corporation's international operations including sales, manufacturing and licensing activities. From 1963 to 1967, Mr. Blumenthal held the rank of U.S. Ambassador as the President's Deputy Special Representative for Trade Negotiations, serving under both President Kennedy and President Johnson.

German-born, Mr. Blumenthal received the B.S. degree from the University of California at Berkeley in 1951. He holds a Master's Degree in Public Affairs (1953) and a doctorate in economics (1956) from Princeton. He was deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs from 1961 until 1963, and a vice-president and director of the Crown Cook International Corporation for four years. He also taught economics at Princeton for three years. He is now a member of the advisory council of Cornell University's graduate school of business and public administration.

introduced a Dissertation Fellowship Program, a Teaching Internship Program, and the Martin Luther King, Jr. Fellowship for black veterans of military service.

Other innovations include Post-Baccalaureate Year Awards, half-time fellowships for married women, and the British Teachers' Program, which provides selected graduates of British universities with short-term faculty appointments in the U.S.

Sir Hugh assumed foundation leadership in 1918 after serving for 13 years as Dean of the Graduate School of Princeton University. Internationally recognized for his work in physical chemistry and for his research contributing to the development of the atomic bomb, he is a Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire and a Knight Commander of the Papal Order of St. Gregory the Great. Both titles were conferred upon him in 1943.

He also holds 28 honorary doctorates from universities in the United States and Canada and Europe.

ONWARD AND UPWARD

In King Program. "This is not a read-write-and-spell kind of program," observed PHIS Principal Kenneth Michael when he outlined the Martin Luther King Summer Program at the high school.

The six-week program is drawing to the end of its third week. Next Monday, the 21 teenagers will be joined by 15-20 youngsters from the Princeton Middle School, and the program will take a new turn.

Things got under way on Monday, June 23, under the direction of Donald Blankenhush of the high school's history department. It was Mr. Blankenhush who wrote a report outlining the ways in which audio-visual materials could be used in studies, obtaining some Title I money therefor.

His Title money was combined with funds set aside by the Princeton Regional School Board for its Martin Luther King Leadership Program, and that's how the summer project got its financial underpinning.

At the moment, one student in the MLK Program is filming Princeton's recreation program — softball, arts and crafts, various recreational activities. Another (see photo) is making slides which will be used with a running narration to make a fashion show.

In another kind of project, the students chaperoned three bus loads of little kids who went to New York to a ball game. That's the kind of thing they'll be doing over the next three weeks when the Middle School students join them. The "leadership" aspects of the program will come into play here, as the older students teach, lead and guide the younger.

All the projects come from the students themselves. The work is so geared that five points of academic credit will be given for the six weeks' project.

So far? No dropouts. All 21 who signed in, have stayed in.

DATE CHANGED

For Black Culture Show. The African-American Culture Show will be held this Friday at 8 p.m. in the YM-YWCA, instead of at the date originally announced. The program committee of adult board of Princeton Youth Center is sponsor.

The program includes black poems, African dances, chant songs, spirituals, all performed by teenagers from the Bucks County Community Center, who will also speak on "What the Black Man Has Accomplished."

Tickets are $2.50 for adults; $1.50 for children under age 13. They are available from Mrs. Oneta Campbell, 924-4443; Miss Mary Young at the YM-YWCA; Mrs. Phyllis Fox, 921-6322; Mrs. Selden Hlick, 924-2892; Billy Hill, 10 Lyle Street, and Mrs. Carole Taylor, 921-6665.

HORSE SHOW ON SUNDAY

In West Windsor. The third annual horse show sponsored by West Windsor Volunteer Fire Company No. 1, will be a.m. at the Matt Mathis farm, held Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m. on Conover Road, Dutch Neck. There will be Eastern and Western divisions.

The show is affiliated with the Garden State Horse Shows Association, New Jersey Professional Horsemen's Association.

Admission to the grounds is free. Refreshments will be available. All proceeds will go to the firemen's building fund. The English division has been enlarged this year and will feature a working hunter state class sponsored by the Foods Division of the Coca-Cola Company of Hightstown.

Steven O. Hawkins of Upper Saddle River and Louis Robertson of Staten Island will judge the 35 classes of the English division. Silver place and six ribbons will be awarded in each class. Championships will be offered in the following categories: small pony working hunter, large pony working hunter, junior working hunter, open working hunter, open pleasure horse or pony, pony jumper and hunter seat equitation.

The 16-class western division will be judged by Edwin P. Blazewicz of Lebanon. There will be pole bending, barrel racing, reining, parade horses, trail horses and horsemanship. A trophy and six ribbons will be awarded in each of the Western classes. A championship and reserve award will also be made.

Requests for prize lists may be sent to Mrs. Russell Damsitz, 148 Prospect Drive, Hightstown.

NATURE WALK PLANNED

Two of the massive benchtable sets in Marquand Park have been stolen. Anyone who saw them lifted into car or truck — probably they are too heavy to have been carried off by hand — is asked to call Borough Hall, 924-3119, with information.

The legend "Property of the Borough of Princeton" has been burned into the wood. The pieces consist of an oblong table with an attached bench on each side, firmly riveted to the table.

Junior Naturalists Club will meet Saturdays throughout the summer at 10 a.m. for children ten years old and under and at 11:30 for those over ten. Activities include nature walks, insects and animal identification and conservation education.

RE-SETTING COLORED GEMS

Often in family heirloom jewelry, there are any number of colored stones that are worth re-setting into attractive mountings and side stones. Many can be combined with diamonds of various size. Most important, is to have the gems properly identified and evaluated according to current market prices.

It was not unusual in past centuries to use stones that were clever duplicates of genuine gems. In some parts of Europe, this was quite common practice even though the mountings and side stones of diamonds were of good quality. We have a classic example of this famous "Rubin Prince's Ruby" in the British Crown Jewels, which was found in later years to be a spinel, "Doublets" and "Triplets," in which thin layers of genuine colored gem are cemented to another stone to increase apparent size, are often seen in antique pieces.

If you have some interesting colored gems in your collection, now is a good time to consider having them checked or remounted. If a stone is damaged, sometimes recutting, regardless of the loss of weight, will increase both the appearance and value. When working with colored gemstones, it is most important to rely on a recognized professional jeweler who has had gemological training. Colored stones have different degrees of hardness, for example, and mounting techniques will vary according to the gem species. As a member firm of the American Gem Society, you can be assured that your treasured pieces will be treated carefully to assure you many years of wear.

Fireworks Charge Outrageous

To the Editor of Town Topics: I was never so outraged at the price of an extracurricular event as I was at the cost for viewing the fireworks at Princeton's Palmer Stadium on Friday evening. July the fourth! To charge $2 per person to see approximately 30 minutes of fireworks has to be the most ridiculous thing I have ever encountered.

Don't get me wrong, I do realize that these people who put on the exhibit probably had to pay for renting Palmer Stadium and also had to pay for the cost of the entertainment, but for two bucks I could see the Mets play a doubleheader at Shea Stadium or a show at the Princeton Theatre or even a whole football game at Palmer Stadium.

Believe me, I was one of the hundreds who turned around and walked away refusing to pay $2.00 a head to see a bunch of pretty colors and a few bangs in the course of an hour. I really enjoy fireworks, but to have to pay that kind of money is simply incredible, especially if you're dating or taking the family. It might have been cheaper for children, but I don't know. I really don't care, because when I went down by the State Board of Education President, Mr. W. Marvel, he apparently feels exactly not two!

This really upset me and I had to tell someone what I for Mr. Male should be waived.

Miss Burke Preferred to Male

To the Editor of Town Topics: For some time I have had the strong feeling that we the American People are being brainwashed. The great difficulty is in determining just who is doing the brainwashing.

I feel there lies the crux of our present discontent and upheaval. It seems to me we have forgotten how to make a decision based on past experiences.

Now we must be sensitized. We are so confused that we must very carefully and methodically investigate and weigh every decision for fear of hurting someone or making the wrong decision.

In the meantime someone else has made the decision for us. We no longer accept the word of qualified persons. We feel we must contest and combat to have to pay that kind of money is simply incredible, especially if you're dating or taking the family. It might have been cheaper for children, but I don't know. I really don't care, because when I went down by the State Board of Education President, Mr. W. Marvel, he apparently feels exactly not two!

A recent decision handed down by the State Board of Education regarding Mr. Raycare, because when I went down by the State Board of Education President, Mr. W. Marvel, he apparently feels exactly not two!

At the requirements are waived in the case of Mr. Male how then do we choose editors for our principals? Will this be done because someone is a Republican, Democrat, a Cabinet member or just a well liked citizen?

A principal of a high school, especially in these troubled times, requires one who has worked with young people, is experienced and capable of handling a multitude of problems receiving the unanimous vote of the School Board. What experience has Mr. Male had that would qualify him to become the principal and head of Princeton High School?

Miss Burke has been at Princeton High School for many years, understand from two children that she is respected and they agree she would make an excellent principal. I also understand that she has the certification required and her past experience with Princeton students and parents certainly qualifies her. Again let me repeat that believe Miss Burke will be an excellent choice to guide Princeton High School in these troubled times. Perhaps, under her leadership, Princeton High School can once again be considered among the best high schools in the country. I question I am sure was lost many years ago.

Sensitivity Training

To the Editor of Town Topics: Something like "Sensitivity Training" appears to have gotten into some of the modern churches. A recent publication states that a New York City church conducted a Communion service, where the communicants were blindfolded, ordered to take off their shoes and led through a 40-minute maze that included a period of crawling on their hands and knees over bread crumbs as a sign of "humble access" to the Holy Communion.

Perhaps intellectuals can rationalize the above procedure with glowing words into a meaningful experience as a form of non-verbal communication. To this writer such conduct is not only irrational, but also inappropriate. Most sensitivity and similar programs contain principles and actions that are hard to reconcile with reason.

Questions on Sex Education.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is the text of an open letter I have written to Assemblyman William E. Schluter:

I was very happy to see that

MAN OF THE WEEK: Township Committee member Thomas B. Hartmann, currently involved with guiding a major expansion program at Rutgers, as well as with plans to help economically and educationally disadvantaged students adjust to college life.

The Senate approved an Assembly Resolution asking Mr. Burger to recommend that no local school board initiate new sex education courses while legislation is pending. However, the wording seems to imply a wish rather than an order according to a department spokesman. Mr. Burger does not have the right to order local boards to stop. See the Evening Times-Trenton, New Jersey, July 3, 1969.

Does this mean that each local school board has within its power, and its power alone, the right to decide whether it will have a sex education program or not? And if so, did the Assembly pass a completely meaningless resolution perhaps as window dressing to calm down the many New Jersey citizens who are opposed to such programs?

I know that as a father you are interested in the school's handling of sex education, and hope that you will take the time to answer these questions.

Why Red Cross is Moving.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Regarding the article which appeared in the July 30 issue of TOWN TOPICS describing the meeting of the Princeton Borough Planning Board on July 1, we should like to clarify the point that Mr. John Hoff addressed this board as spokesman for the Princeton Chapter. American Red Cross in its capacity as Chapter Chairman, representing its Board of Directors.

Actual expiration date of the lease between the Chapter and Princeton University is August 1970. The Chapter is seeking other headquarters space not from discount over relations with the present landlord, but because of the need for larger and more suitable headquarters.

French Teacher Remembered.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Alumni and alumnae of Miss Fine's School (before its merger with Princeton Country Day School) are saddened by the passing away, on July 2, of one of its former devoted, competent and beloved French teachers, Mademoiselle Marie Helene Zaepfel.

Mademoiselle Zaepfel came to Miss Fine's in 1920 and retired in 1948. From the third grade to the upper schools she nurtured her many students with a hasty and strong foundation in French language and culture.

We who benefited from her patience, personal interest as a language teacher, her warmth and sense of humor, pause, in gratitude, for this legacy which she freely shared with us.

Board Member Replies.

To the Editor of Town Topics: (Editor's note: the writer of the following letter, Mrs. Richard Edwards, is a member of the Princeton Regional School Board. She is writing in reply to an interview with board vice-president William Marvel, carried in last week's TOWN TOPICS.)

Mr. Marvel has indicated that the Board of Education will seek to reverse the decision of the State Board of Education, reference to an administrative appointment in the Princeton Regional School System. While no disrespect is directed to Mr. Marvel's right to make a statement, this statement has been made without the full knowledge of the Board of Education.

In addition, the press release to the public contains several inaccuracies and discrepancies. It is my understanding that the Board of Education feels it has an internal problem, the entire board is called into session, and the differences are discussed. The board makes a determination — if an individual board member desires to make a public statement after the entire board's determination has been reached, then he acts on his own. The last time the board was in full session to discuss the subject was at a meeting, 24 June 1969 — since

BUSINESS In Princeton

NEW FIRM GOING PUBLIC
PAHR Plans Stock Sale. An assortment of small firms in the Princeton area pursuing widely divergent interests, all of which have gone public in the last few months, will be joined next by another, Princeton Associates for Human Resources, possibly the first behavioral science company to go public.

Located at 341 Nassau Street, PAHR is engaged in providing behavioral training directed towards the human resources factor in governmental, educational and industrial entities as well as community and urban affairs. In words familiar to just about everyone these days, this boils down to "sensitivity training."

The company's typical behavioral training program is in the form of group sessions conducted by members of the staff acting as "group leaders." These sessions, which can be conducted using only one or two Associates, endeavor to achieve established objectives by "sensitivity" training utilizing techniques of behavioral training.

Its behavioral training involves the use of techniques in group interactional processes, including "encounter" and "skill" groups, microbeats and simulated work situations, including psychodrama and varied applications of role playing.

PAHR has 18 Associates who are independent behavioral scientists and psychologists primarily connected with various colleges and universities in the New Jersey and New York area, some of whom provide consulting services in various spheres of human relations problems.

The firm expects to make its money from fees charged for planning, developing and conducting the programs. Based primarily on the number of persons in the program and the time span required to complete it, the fees range from $750 a day for typical two and three-day "human relations" workshops to more than $10,000 for a retreat-type, five-day workshop involving 50 participants.

Dr. Leonard Blank, 4 Rumson Road, Kendall Park, is president of the firm. A certified psychologist with a diploma in clinical psychology, he has been teaching psychology at Rutgers University since 1965. Prior to that he was the Director of Psychology training at the New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies.

Norman O. Ranz of Berkeley Heights is executive vice-president and director. Herbert Abelson, Meadowbrook Drive, president of Response Analysis Corporation, a company formed earlier this year by

Ronald Trevoniano

Opinion Research Corporation executives, is also a director. The firm plans an offering of 90,000 shares at $5 a share probably within the next two months.

TEVONIAN SELECTED For Management Program

Ronald Trevoniano, an assistant director at Western Electric's research center on Carter Road, has been selected to attend his company's five-month management training program.

The program is designed to prepare company men for management careers, and involves instruction in all phases of business management. An employee for 14 years, Mr. Trevoniano was transferred to the research center near Princeton in 1958 where he has since been working on ways to advance and utilize computer technology. He is a 1956 graduate of Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn with a degree in electrical engineering. He lives on Montgomery Road, Rocky Hill.

PROMOTION ANNOUNCED

By Benson & Benson, Inc. Robert Bezilla, 228 State Road, has been named a vice-president of Benson & Benson, Inc., Princeton marketing research firm. He will be responsible for directing research programs for B&B in the areas of financial and industrial marketing.

After joining Benson & Benson in 1964, Mr. Bezilla advanced to Senior Project Director, specializing in financial community research. He directed the projects for a number of leading business corporations.

A member of the American Marketing Association, Mr. Bezilla received a degree in philosophy at John Hopkins University. Prior to joining B&B, he served with the U.S. Army Security Agency in Japan.

MRS. SHEPARD RETIRES

From Princeton S&L, Mrs. Helen Shepard, 36 Jefferson Road, retired July 1 from the Princeton Savings and Loan Association. She had been the Association's Secretary since January, 1967.

At the same time, executive vice-president William H. Bo-zer Jr. announced the promotion of Mrs. Lois A. Vendetti to assistant secretary and Mrs. Jeanette T. Clayton to assistant treasurer.

Mrs. Shepard joined the staff of Princeton S&L in March, 1952. She was appointed assistant secretary in 1959.

She was recently feted at a dinner in her honor at the Peacock Inn. Her husband, Morrill, has just retired from the faculty at Princeton High School.

Mrs. Vendetti had been an employee for more than 13 years of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, where she worked for the past nine years in the bank's loan department. A resident of Penns Neck, Mrs. Vendetti is a graduate of Princeton High School and attended the American Institute of Banking.

Mrs. Clayton joined Princeton Savings in 1963, after eight years at the First National Bank of Princeton where she was an assistant head bookkeeper. She was elected assistant secretary of the Association in 1966.

Like Mrs. Vendetti, she is a graduate of PHS and attended the American Institute of Banking. She lives in Mercerville.

WE DO!

IN THE 1920's IT WAS DRINKING. In the 1960's it is drinking and drugs. A sizeable number of our youth are involved in one or the other.

If you have a teenager, or if you drive a car, you can hardly avoid the problem.

Five of Princeton's young people were in the car pictured above. Two were pinned underneath, badly injured. Police found drugs in the car.

Drugged or drunk, the driver is a potential killer, whether he wants to be or not.

Liquor, marijuana, benzedrine, LSD can blow your mind, disconnect your coordination, and as you drive down the road, destroy your judgment of space. You are a danger to yourself and others. Survival is a matter of luck.

Here in Princeton, we are playing our luck to the final thin line. There's a massive drug problem. Between 75 and 100 youngsters at the high school alone are reported "non-functioning personalities" by the principal. That's 7 or 8 percent.

There are 60 to 100 from all of the schools who are on heroin, and between 300 and 400 on other forms of narcotics at one time or another. The hospital has admitted an average of one or two students a week since the start of the year — suicidal some of them, others dangerously ill. Negro youths, traditional users of the bottle, have been found switching to heroin. And there's a new drug in town, "DMA," a lysurgic-related drug that takes the kids on a four or five-day trip.

The facts on alcohol are equally alarming, with liquor easily obtainable at home or by paying an adult to buy it at the stores. And between the drugs and the drinking, we have a sizeable number of our youth on a destructive course.

By their actions, they are calling for our deepest, most intelligent, most constructive concern. By our actions, we must say to them,

"We care!"

Q. What is firmer than a father's restraining hand, quicker than a mother's prayer — and cheaper than a small-sized coffin?

A. A safety harness for a child who has outgrown the car seat.

WATCH OUT

FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Early in March, an elderly Princeton widow stepped off the curb at Palmer Square and Nassau Street and was knocked into the air by a hit-and-run driver.

She spent over six weeks in Princeton Hospital and at the hospital's convalescent unit, Merwick, recovering from a broken pelvis. And she would say to the nurses and friends in a bewildered way, "I never saw him coming." Since she lives alone in a small duplex apartment, a niece came up from Baltimore to take care of her when she was finally released, still unable to walk without support.

And all of this pain and bewilderment and fear of never being able to walk again was caused by someone's hasty trip around the corner at Palmer Square without looking for pedestrians.

Particularly elderly pedestrians. This is the danger season when the days are warm and bright — and the senior citizens come out for their short walks and errands. Drivers need to be on the alert for them.

And the elderly, by the same token, should try to avoid the hours between 4 p.m. and midnight. And they should remember that Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays are the worst accident days.

Many of the elderly, though not in the instance of the woman mentioned above, jaywalk on Nassau Street. This is risking a violent injury, a long hospitalization and recovery — and even death.

REMINDER:

Your Responsibility in an Auto Accident

1. STOP

Stop immediately at the accident scene or as close to scene as possible. Try not to obstruct traffic. Turn off ignition of damaged car immediately. Do not smoke.

2. HELP INJURED

Check for injured — get medical aid if needed. Call ambulance or doctor whichever is quicker. Administer first aid if qualified. Do not move seriously injured unless absolutely necessary. Use Red Cross manual as guide.

3. PROTECT SCENE

Prevent further accidents by moving vehicles out of way if feasible. If not, put out flags, flares or flashlights. Station persons to warn other traffic.

4. NOTIFY POLICE

Immediately notify proper authority (city, county or state) if persons are injured or property damage exceeds specified legal minimum amount (usually $50) to one or both vehicles.

5. REMAIN AT SCENE

Driver should remain at scene until all obligations have been fulfilled unless he is injured.

that time, the Board of Education has not been in session.

In view of the fact that I'm being publicly censured for my convictions and my integrity is being questioned, therefore, I have no choice but to respond publicly.

A. In the capacity of a school board member, I accepted the charge to faithfully discharge the duties of the office of a member of the Board of Education as a representative of the community and I am accountable to the community for the quality of education, the educational culture of the teaching and administrative staff and budgetary expenditures in the process of obtaining these goals.

B. Note: "You had 85 applicants for the job and only one was acceptable?" Answer: "That's correct."

This does not speak well of us as a Board of Education; that not one of the 85 applicants other than the one who was asking more money than we could afford to pay were acceptable; even though every applicant is employed in other school systems.

C. While Rev. Rooks and I are black, this is not germane to the issue of voicing our opinions nor voting our convictions on any issue or recommendation that comes before the Board of Education. The fact that both of us agreed

Operation and maintenance of buildings and grounds, curriculum, textbooks, etc., and to ensure to the best of my ability that the Princeton community selects and maintains and pursues for all children and this community, the best in the educational process. In coming to GRIPS in the selection of any employee of the Princeton School system and especially one for the position in question, I shall continue to insist on a candidate with all the necessary educational qualifications the position requires.

D. Never, ever at any time as implied otherwise by Mr. Marvel, have I met with any candidate for the principalship prior to the Board of Education conducting a personal interview, nor have I met with any teacher representatives, administrative representatives or student representatives.

(1) Prior to the Board of Education interviewing the six applicants as a result of the Board's involvement in the selection — Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. (George) Fremont on behalf of the Board of Education met at the Administration Building (Stony Brook) in March, 1969 and "SCREENED" the dossiers of these applicants which had been given to us by the Superintendent. These recommendations were then submitted to the Superintendent.

(2) Having in his possession the recommendations from all groups, the Superintendent made his selection and presented to the entire Board of Education his composite rating list of his recommendations of applicants for consideration and for interview.

(3) At no time did Mrs. Edwards see or screen Mr. Male's dossier nor speak with Mr. Male regarding the principalship or any other matter. Of the seven candidates repeatedly mentioned, I have seen five: all of whom met the necessary educational qualifications.

E. I believe that complete integrity is expected of the Board of Education, and that all matters dealing with the school system should be accurately reported to the public. Should circumstances necessitate a board member being absent from a regular board meeting of an UN-SCHEDULED board meeting held during the normal work hours of other Board members, then complete and frank information of these meetings should be disseminated to the absent member. It is incumbent upon each board member to keep other members so informed.

F. I cannot emphasize enough when an internal problem occurs and one feels he must go to the community, the public must be in the possession of all facts correctly reported. Failure to present an accurate account results in this so-called "enemies of enlightenment."

Therefore, if a board member is not allowed to challenge any course of action whether it pertains to personnel, money or the educational end results, and asks questions of their colleagues or inquires extensively into recommendations submitted to the Board of Education, and submit information as it is communicated to one, whether it is a popular or an unpopular decision, then the entire concept of educational systems enabling all persons affected by the educational process to be heard is DEAD.

Pollution Abatement Vital.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

We are pleased to see progress towards the Stony Brook Regional Sewer System. The estimated cost of this system based on projected needs for 1965 is $30 million. We notice that the proposed authority plans to apply for federal funds, which could amount to 60% of the total.

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Community is concerned that water pollution and pollution abatement is now at a critical point. Although Congress has authorized $1 billion for the Sewerage Grants Facilities Act of 1966, the request for appropriation is only $24 million this year. This gap puts an impossible squeeze on state and local municipalities to meet the standards of the Clean Water Act of 1966.

If we hope to be able to clean up our streams, rivers, and lakes, and hope to have federal and state funds to assist us, we must first urge our congressmen and the President for a much larger appropriation for the sewage facilities construction grants, and secondly, work for passage of the Water Bonds referendum next November.

News Of The CHURCHES

NEGRO MINISTER ADDED
To Trinity Clergy. The Rev. E. John Gwynn, a June graduate of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., has joined the staff of Trinity Episcopal Parish as its first black minister.

He will have special responsibility in the area of community concerns in addition to regular parish duties, according to Tuesday's announcement mailed to the parish by the rectors, wardens and vestry, who noted that the new minister had "extensive experience with both the student community and racial unrest" in Cambridge.

The Rev. Mr. Gwynn will preach at 9 a.m. this Sunday in All Saints' Chapel and at 11 in Trinity Church. A social hour follows both services to enable the congregation to meet him and his white wife, Barbara. The couple, with their small son Joel, will be living at 42 Monroe Road, near Terhune Road.

A native of Baltimore, the Rev. Mr. Gwynn attended Baltimore schools and was graduated in 1966 from Towson State College. Before entering the seminary, he was an elementary guidance counselor during summer months, especially in Head Start and related programs and also in child camps in New York and Connecticut.

He has worked extensively with the urban communities of Baltimore and Cambridge over the past eight years. He was involved with programs to assist persons to assume leadership within their own communities and the nation. A part-time member of the staff of Christ Church in Cambridge, he was instrumental in the creation of a Board for Community Development. The board directs its attention to creating and expanding small businesses through seed money and loans, providing scholarships and creating channels for public empowerment, the parish announcement said.

The addition of the Rev. Mr. Gwynn to Trinity's fulltime staff of four clergy begins the first of four-part areas of involvement outlined by the rectors. The Rev. James R. Whitmore at the December 1967 annual meeting of the parish: a mission in Hightstown-Cranbury area; a counseling service; expanded youth programs, and a special ministry to the larger community.

"During the past year," the parish announcement summed, "we have made a substantial financial gift to the thriving new mission in the Hightstown-Cranbury area.

"At the request of the Princeton Pastors' Association, we have initiated the Trinity Counseling Service, an ecumenical venture under the direction of Trinity's vicar, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer.

In June 1968, we greatly expanded our community youth work with the addition of Mr. William Knight as part-time worker on our staff; he will continue with us until next January when he graduates from the Princeton Theological Seminary.

"A number of us met the Rev. Mr. Gwynn last spring and we are confident that Fr. Gwynn will be a most valuable addition to the parish staff."

TO INSTALL NEW PASTOR

At Bunker Hill Lutheran. The Rev. Stanley Bugge will be installed as minister of Bunker Hill Lutheran Church, Hightstown, at 3:30 p.m. this Sunday. A former pastor, the Rev. George Aase, will officiate.

The Rev. Mr. Bugge was ordained in 1956 after attending Hillcrest Lutheran Academy in Minnesota, Luther College, Decorah, Ia., and Lutheran Brethren Schools' Seminary, Fergus Falls, Minn. He has served churches in Iowa, Illinois and Connecticut.

After the installation service, a reception will be held for the Rev. Mr. Bugge and his wife, LaVerne. The couple has three children: Carole Anne, Daniel Martine and Sharon Elizabeth.

YOUTH TO PREACH

In Mt. Zion Church. "Little Minister David," the boy preacher, will speak at 3:30 this Sunday in Mount Zion A.M.E. Church, Little Rocky Hill. The Rev. G. Howard Hunt has announced. David is the son of the Rev. Isaac Ballard, past of Trenton's Bethlehem Baptist Church.

Mrs. Dorothy Spriggs is chairman of the program which includes other young people. Refreshments will be served on the lawn following the program.

SERMON SERIES BEGINS

At Princeton Baptist. The Rev. Dr. Walter P. Carvin, Church at Penns Neck, begins this Sunday a sermon series on the Book of Genesis. Worship services are held at 11 a.m.

The series will include commentaries on Isaac and Jacob with conclusions with four sermons on Joseph and his brothers.

BULLETIN NOTES

MRS. CRITZ WINS AWARD
Scholarship for Chamber Director. A scholarship to the annual management institute conducted by the United States Chamber of Commerce has been awarded to Mrs. Eva J. Critz, Executive Director of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce.

The scholarship is provided by the New Jersey Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives, a statewide association of Chamber managers. It provides tuition payment to the institute, which will be held at Syracuse University in August.

Walter Knight, association president, notified Mrs. Critz of her selection by a committee of fellow members in other cities of the state.

Commenting on the selection, Mr. Knight pointed out that the choice is based upon the potential of the manager, her contribution to the field of Chamber activity and the relative size of her Chamber's budget.

Mrs. Critz has taken an active part in the work of the association. Mr. Knight observed, "We know she will use the education provided to improve the community which she serves." Knight observed, "We know she will use the education provided to improve the community which she serves."

Mrs. Marie H. Zaepliff, 86, formerly of 206 Nassau Street, died July in the State Hospital. She retired in 1918 after teaching for 26 years in Miss Fine's School.

Born in England, Miss Zaepliff did graduate work at Columbia University and Middlebury College. She formerly taught at the Beard School in Orange.

A brother and sister in France survive her.

brated in St. Paul's Church.
Interment was in the parish cemetery under direction of the

ON THE JOB TRAINING AT RCA: Willie Mack (center), a participant in Princeton High School's Cooperative Trade and Industry program, received training at RCA during the school year, and after graduation from PHIS this month, he began work at the David Sarnoff Research Center for the summer. Here he receives instruction on the use of vertical miller from Larry Forster, of RCA's Model shop staff. At right, is John Scott, a member of the PHIS faculty, who directed the program, under which students attended class in the mornings and worked in the afternoons.

She and her husband lived in Larchmont, N. Y. for 18 years prior to moving to Princeton in 1945.

Also surviving are two sons, James of Princeton and Thomas of Scarsdale, N. Y.; five grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Francis Birch of Cambridge and Mrs. Fairfield Pater of Southampton, L. I., and one brother, Laurence Channing of Boston.

A memorial service will be held at 3:30 p.m. this Sunday in the Princeton University Chapel.

Princeton Girl Teaches Teachers In Brazilian Municipal Schools

"Since I have been here," writes Gladys H. Irish, a Peace Corps volunteer in Lages, Brazil, "the municipal government has opened five new school buildings and raised teachers' salaries from $2.50 to $3 a month."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner B. Irish of 177 Terrace Road and a graduate of Swarthmore, Miss Irish has, in the nearly two years she spent in Lages, carved a role for herself as a supervisor for the municipal schools. She also teaches 12 evening classes a week at an evening secondary school.

"The hopes are many," she says, "to raise the enthusiasm and skills of the teachers, to increase community awareness of the importance and needs of the schools, and to increase the number of schools and students."

"Perhaps eventually there could be more cooperation between the state and municipal schools which now operate parallel but completely independent systems."

The Challenge. She has pitted her skills against considerable odds. Her teachers have had only six years, sometimes even less, of grade school education. Classes range in size from 25 to 45 students and may have four different levels of achievement.

"The parents are often illiterate," she notes, "and absenteeism is high, especially during planting and harvesting seasons. There are no school supplied books, so that kids bring their own — in astonishing variety — or go without."

"We have become involved in a school-to-school program with the Asa C. Adams School in Orono, Maine. They recently sent us five boxes of school supplies donated by the children there — including much-needed paper, pencils, crayons, erasers, pencil sharpeners, and so on. We are also exchanging letters."

Gladys H. Irish

Miss Irish is a part of the Peace Corps' Education/Community Development program. It is "unstructured" in that the volunteer with an area of interest and skill creates his role in the community, rather than reporting to an assigned job and supervisor.

The Lages municipal schools maintain 10 classes in one-room schools in the outlying area and six in the center of town. "No school offers the complete primary course, though this year," Miss Irish says with some pride, "we have one school with two students in the next-to-last year."

"Keeping Track." Her daily work involves observing and advising the teachers, helping with lesson plans, generally keeping track," she says ruefully. "The teachers learned in schools using a combination rote and individual recitation method and have difficulty grasping newer methods of organizing and presenting material."

"I have held several week-long training sessions, the latest of which centered on first year arithmetic, went extremely well and captured the enthusiasm of the teachers."

There have been frustrations as well. Some, such as the lack of school transportation to the outlying schools, stem directly from the poverty of the area.

"There are people with a lot of money — and many others who may starve to death unless the rain keeps up more consistently than it has," she says.

"Other frustrations stem from the difficulty of changing traditional methods and outlooks, and the sheer enormity of the problem. I figured out once that in the rural areas the percentage of children not attending school may be as high as 75 percent."

"A specific problem now is the presence of a new, two-room school building — with desks for only one room — so the children come to school in four sessions of two hours each. Nobody seems to have the ability to get desks, though the state school, also operating on four sessions, will be able to shift to three sessions if they could hold two classes in the municipal school."

The Pluses. On the other side of the ledger, however, are such tangible gains as the rise in enrollment from 234 to 457 in two years. Four classes have been added; the teachers are more enthusiastic, surer of themselves, and classes are better organized.

And two cooks have been hired, she reports, for the new lunch program in the center-of-town schools. The children are given a meal of United States' surplus powdered milk, corn meal, rolled oats and bulgur.

"I have encountered many rewards in my work here," Gladys Irish says of her two years' service that will end in October. "I do not know how much I have contributed, but I feel something has happened since I've been here."

News Of The THEATRES

SUCCESS STORY
Intime Play a Hit. Summer Intime's production of Marcel

Archaud's "A Shot in the Dark" gives us fun and games; the fun is sex and the game is murder.

Watching it on the evening of the Fourth, punctuated by the booming of fireworks, was a cool jolly way to spend a holiday. The holiday will be yours again during the week end of July 17-19 at Murray Theatre, and there are several reasons for taking it.

The story is fun. A girl has been found slightly nude and holding a gun near the slightly dead and formerly jealous body of her Spanish boyfriend. She is a French maid, in name only of course, and he was the chauffeur.

The maid maid is promptly accused of murder and delivered up to the new magistrate, a young but upright fellow trying to make, not the maid, but good. He feels a kind of humanitarian attraction to the girl and sets out to prove her more amorous than murderous. He does. Along the way we discover a few complications, a liaison or two, and three, and, perhaps incidentally the guilty party.

Perhaps the prime reason for enjoying "A Shot in the Dark" is Deborah Savogde's performance as Josefa Lantana. The nude parlor maid who has a habit of wandering from the point during interrogation. She also has wandered by the wayside, or bedside, if you will. Girl isn't really a whore, just bed brained, and extremely engaging, though far from engaged.

She seems to have everything in gear and moving nicely except her intellect, and this is just as it should be. As a girl who seems perpetually to be saying Yes, Miss Savogde gives us naivete and innocence and experience in just the right proportion. She is a delightful bedbug and - far from incidentally - has beautiful legs.

A Demanding Role. John Vennema, in a demanding role, is the magistrate with a heart of gold. Awkward in his new job, he seems also to be uncomfortable with himself.

but manages to relax by Act II.

With a greater sense of innuendo, especially during the low-key beginning of the play, much more of his funny lines would reach us. But as a valuable Intime player, his presence is always strong. When he becomes truly playful here, he is fine.

Two contributors to the gradual smoothness of the production are Larry Strichman and Eric von Starck. Mr. Strichman enjoys himself as the magistrate's lecherous clerk, munching on an endless supply of mints or popcorn. For his sake, I hope they're tasty.

Mr. von Starck, seen too briefly in last week's "The Little Foxes," is simply fine as M. Beaurevers, the maid's funny, cool employer. He is sunny, cool and smooth, sporting smoke in steady, suave streams. His presence on stage considerably enhances and relaxes the production.

Cool Characters. The rest of the cast - Robert Rockwell, Beverly Rogers, Giulia Pagano - are all cool in cool roles; they give no light or heat, but all the right impressions come across to us. Andy Bloch's guard, though a small detail - is very carefully done, a character on a stage of faces.

The whole production is cool, very much in accord with the play. Geoff Peterson's direction makes much of a limited space without boring our senses. The actors, perhaps unperceived by audience nose and the exploding festivities of our nation's natal day, showed a few forgivable gaps in timing. And Richard B. Williams' set and lighting demonstrate that he has fine taste and a remarkable sense of timing.

able sense of what is stylistically right for the audience's eyes and the actor's words.

"A Shot in the Dark" demonstrates what is so often excellent about Theater Intime, summer and winter: thorough and solid production of good theater on a truly professional plane. And Intime at its best demonstrates its own style as a company by playing on an intimate and adult level that makes us care about drama.

—David Carr

"FOXES" THIS WEEKEND
In Final Performances. "The Little Foxes," Lillian Hellman's drama about a greed-driven southern family, will be seen in its final Summer Intime repertory performances this weekend at Murray Theatre.

The play will be given this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30. Tickets may be reserved by calling 452-8181.

Next weekend, Summer Intime will continue with the final performances of Marcel Achard's farce, "A Shot in the Dark," and the company is rehearsing "Anne of the Thousand Days." Maxwell Anderson's verse play about Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn. It will be shown July 24, 25, 26 and August 2, 7, 8, and 9.

JAZZ
 From Barry Miles. Improvisational jazz from Barry Miles and his quartet will cool the summer evening Wednesday, July 16 with an 8:30 Summer Intime concert at Murray Theatre on campus.

This will be the first performance anywhere, anywhere at all, of music Mr. Miles has signed up to record for RCA. The new album will be out this fall: it's his third.

Mr. Miles, a recent Princeton University graduate, has been playing piano, drums and vibes professionally since he was eight years old, which isn't too long ago. He's performed with symphony orchestras, jazz groups and rock groups, has played in concert and on record with Miles Davis and Duke Ellington, among others.

For the past few years he's been developing what he calls "syncretic" music, a kind of contemporary American jazz which draws on both classic composition and jazz creativity.

Tickets for the concert are $3, and Summer Intime subscribers get the half-price rate. Seats may be reserved by calling 452-8181.

TWO FOR ROCK
 At Music Circus. This summer it will be jazz, rock, folk and pop night at the Music Circus in Lambertville.

This Sunday will be the opener, with The Brooklyn Bridge, described as a "new multi-talented rock group of ten and one (female)." Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

The next one-night special will be the following night, Monday, with The Guess Who. "These Eyes" is the top Guess Who record, performed in the group's characteristically unorthodox style. The Guess Who calls its style "Wheatfield Soul."

Brooklyn Bridge reached fame with their first single, able at Center Stationers, Hurl's Shoes and Male's Book Shop, and will also be sold at the Playhouse the afternoon of the performance.

PRINCE
 The Last Mao (now playing). This is a film on black militancy, picking up where "Up Tight" left off.

The first part is devoted to explaining the mood of the militant black community, although it falls short of conveying emotionally what the characters are saying. Sidney Poitier is cast as a black militant leader, seen first as an onlooker at a black demonstration against the hiring practices of a Philadelphia maritime factory. He then holds a meeting of militants to discuss a robbery, proceeds to go to the families of imprisoned and injured black militants. The two scenes illustrate the unevenness of the film: the demonstration is alive with action and meaning, the meeting is static.

The action scenes and top-flight performances by Al Freeman Jr., as the demonstration leader and by Joanna Shimkus as a widowed social worker save this film. Freeman is alternately despairing and hopeful, troubled by unwanted knowledge and compassion. Miss Shimkus, the white girl who falls in love with Potier, strikes the right note in her sorrow-filled confrontations with her father, a civil rights lawyer, played by Richard Dysart.

Potier has his moments, but his role is an awkward one, full of words. He moves with more assurance once the ill-fated robbery takes place.

The white community will probably find more appeal in this film than the blacks. The latter are likely to view it as an invalid statement of what is happening.

In coming months, Miss Truxal will sing at the Newport Music Festival and in Carnegie Hall, where she will be a soprano soloist in a presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

IT'S NEW To Us

LOOKING AT TOYS

From Creative Playthings. One of the admirable qualities of the Creative Playthings' designers is the obvious respect they feel for a child's imagination. They give a child a durable, simple object and let him or her take it from there.

Any parent who has watched a child play with left-over bits of wood from a carpentry project around the house knows that he will use them with great imagination to mark streets for his cars, to build garages, towers, farm fences. They will be back walls for impromptu games with marbles, sandbox tools, and on and on.

Creative Playthings supplies boxes full of these odd shapes and sizes of wood for youngsters, all in a sturdy size that is right for building. There are rectangles, triangles, solid cylinders and symmetrical cutouts, ready for uses that continually surprise us. We saw the blocks at Zinder's on Nassau Street, and there are growing number of Creative Playthings are conveniently on sale.

Zinder's also carries CP's amusing kitchen sink and stove in natural wood, sized for little girls who don't want to bend way down to do their work any more than their mothers. There are two pre-tend burners, a grille that doubles as a drainboard and a deep well for the sink. Below, open shelves on one side, a hinged door on the other. ($39.)

Shining aluminum kitchen ware comes in sets for the stove-sink. This includes pots and pans, a bean pot, a long-handled ladle among other things—all able to hold enough food for three or four friends, there's a companion tea set.

Zinder's stocks CP's famous three-legged stool with a magnifying glass in the center of the seat, and the rubber hand puppets (mom, dad, and three youngsters) that stand upright by themselves but are extremely flexible on the hand.

For the under-sixes, an old-fashioned scooter on roller skate wheels, in natural wood and simply made; or wooden trucks and cranes, all with moving parts for curious, in tent hands.

In the transportation line, Zinder's has Creative Playthings' famous wooden train set. The track interlocks a little differently now, with a long-necked wooden ball extending from one end of a track piece that fits into a keyhole slot in the next. The track includes crossovers and a two-section bridge. The engine and cars have easily connected hook and eyes between them.

There's also a wooden tug boat set that includes three barges. Flat-bottomed for better mobility on the floor, the pieces lock together in jigsaw fashion.

In the transportation line as well is the kiddie car type tractor of natural wood, that pulls a four-wheeled platform. The wheels are very fluent, an important element in motion toys.

Looking at the miscellany of Creative Playthings at Zinder's, you will see a nursery-size sliding board—up the ladder two short steps, across the box-like center, then down the short slide. There's also a very realistic telescope, a hurdy hurdy with visible innards, a double easel to keep two artists working at once, and even a "baby bouncer"—a harness arrangement suspending from a horizontal bar. The variety is interesting in itself.

As a final note, you will find in the doll furniture a most sympathetic attitude towards the gap between a little girl's love of doll furniture and her skill in handling the pieces.

These are for the child who isn't ready for the hand-tooled poster bed, for instance. The CP toy furniture is very simple, utilitarian and sized right for doll houses. It is unpainted and somewhat of a form in design. There are sets for the kitchen, or the living room, or the nursery, or a set for the entire doll house. Zinder's seems well supplied.

MORE THAN WOOD

In A Frame. "Part of the challenge of framing," Dave Rosendorf, 1-b Frame Shoppe on Witherspoon Street says, "is to see the frame that is correct for the piece. You have to be extremely open minded. There are frames that I particularly like, but I wouldn't suggest them to a customer if they didn't fit into the picture to be framed."

"I'm leary of overpowering the picture," he continues. "If I were to put a big, 21 carat gold frame on a painting, your eyes goes to it rather than to the painting. This is not where the credit should go!"

Mr. Rosendorf, who works in a neat clutter of frames, tools, piled paintings and prints, smooths his work apron as he talks, choosing his words carefully. "Unfortunately, we tend to be a little too frank with our customers sometimes when they ask us if a piece is worth framing," he says earnestly. "It isn't the value of the piece — it could be a news clipping — but the customer has to really like the piece and he has to have a place to use it. These are the two prerequisites for framing."

A lot of people come here with something they really don't like!"

The Frame Shoppe's point of view is that framing is an art in itself, that a proper frame will strengthen the painting or drawing. "An extremely simple item can be framed so that it is tremendous," Mr. Rosendorf says.

He learned his skills a long time ago, although he is still a young man. His pre-owned Clearcase studio for some 40 years, and so "I grew up with it." He apprenticed himself to an Italian frame maker in New York City for a while, learning the old craft techniques.

His work is conservative, traditional, with little attention paid to aluminum and less to plastic. Although The Frame Shoppe is not really a gallery operation, it has an

SUMMER FILMS PLANNED
By Public Library. The Public Library has scheduled a series of summer movies, Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m. during this month & next. The program began with "Raiders in the Sun," July 8. Next Tuesday four short films will be shown: "Baked Egg," "Mood of Zen," "Thief of Baghdad," a condensed version of the film starring Douglas Fairbanks, and "Towers."

On July 22 "Weapons of Gordon Parks" will be shown, along with "Playboy," a documentary made by Parks, and "Aretha Franklin, Soul Singer." The July 29 program is devoted to W. C. Fields.

Alfred Hitchcock's classic film "Notorious," starring Cary Grant and Ingrid Bergman, will be shown on August 5. On August 12 the program includes, "New York, New York," "Back to Back," a short cartoon with Mike Nichols and Elaine May; and "Groovy Press," Malcolm X - "Struggle for Freedom."

The three titles to be shown August 19 are "Clay," "Salem," and "George Stewart's book Storm and The Noisy Underwater World of the Weddell Seal."

The summer series will conclude August 26 with "To Kill a Mockingbird" with Gregory Peck. Free tickets are required for W. C. Fields, "Notorious," and "To Kill a Mockingbird." They may be picked up in the library during the week preceding each program.

The emphasis is on quality framing. As Mr. Rosendorf puts it: "Time means practically nothing to us. It could be a couple of weeks or months before we complete a job. We won't under any circumstances sacrifice quality for speed."

The Frame Shoppe has lengths of framing that can be cut and carved to any size and shape. It can match frames for you, if you have one you particularly like. There is also a large selection of standing oval frames to choose from.

Thinking the matter over Mr. Rosendorf philosophizes: "A picture shouldn't have to be framed more than once and no matter where you put it, it will be suitable."

PLAYHOUSE
"Pop" (now playing). Mostly "Pop" is a comedy about family relationships — "Life with Father" in the slums — with Alvin Arkin in the title role.

Arkin has made his screen reputation playing eccentric characters. He's the kooky Soviet sailor in the Russian "Are Coming," the compassionate deaf-mute in "The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter," and he is Abraham Rodriguez, the determined Puerto Rican father in Spanish Harlem who nearly kills his children through his obsessive desire to secure a decent start in life for them. "I want them to feel high in their shoes," he says.

His outlook has a wry, sometimes clownish humor that filters a protest against the way he has been short-changed by life. Beneath his comic portrayal are glimpses of the underlying violence and rot of the slum community.

Rita Moreno is on screen briefly as Rodriguez's girl friend, fleshing out the part well. Puerto Rican and Cuban residents of the area fill in for minor roles, etching the ethnic background. Miguel Alejandro and Ruben Figueroa, both selected for the children's roles from a group of Spanish Harlem school children, do a fine job.

GARDEN
True Grit (starts Fri.) puts that venerable American institution, John Wayne, back in the saddle, again, in a role, that some critics claim should certainly win him an Oscar nomination, if not the prize, itself. Taken from the novel of the same name by Charles Portis, who almost appears to have written it especially for Wayne, the film centers on the search of a crutchless old U.S. Marshall and a teenage girl for the killer of the girl's father. As Rooster Cogburn, the marshall, with only one good eye and an insatiable taste for booze, Wayne gives a vigorous performance.

The teenage girl, who gave the book so much of its charm as an odd and wilful little wildcat, determined to avenge her father's death, is played down a bit in the film by Kim Darby. Glen Campbell, the Texan Ranger, also looking for the same killer, is just another cowboy next to Wayne.

Readers of the book may miss some of its quirkish humor, but to compensate, it's a big family western in the traditional Wayne style, with plenty of violence and the usual beautiful western scenery.

Incidentally the film received an "M" not a "G" rating from the MPAA. According to one trade publication: "Apparently the 'M' is due to some of the salty dialogue used by Wayne — epithets regarding the legitimacy of the actions of some of his enemies and other disparagements, which seem to be on the mild side these days."

SPORTS In Princeton

EAGLES, NO. 3 TIED
For PBA Baseball Lead. The Eagles and Engine Company No. 3 each won a pair of games last week in the PBA Youth Baseball League to share first place. Each had a 4-0 record. David Lion's two homers and triple powered No. 3 to an 8-1 triumph over Engine Company No. 3. Bob McHugh also homered for No. 3, as teammate Brian Jeffries limited winless No. 1 to four hits. He struck out seven.

Although it managed to load the bases four times, No. 1's only run was a homer off the bat of Bobby Silverman. Silverman also doubled to account for half of his team's hits. McHugh was the pitching and batting star in No. 3's 5-2 victory over Roma Elterna. He struck out nine and doubled in No. 3's three-run first inning.

Eagles kept pace with a 2-0 shutout over Elks and a 3-2 shading of Hook & Ladder.

George Reynolds limited the Elks to one hit — by losing pitcher Paul Moravec — and fanned five to record the shutout. A two-run rally in the fourth, highlighted by Peter North's home run and Dana Nini's double, enabled Eagles to edge Hook & Ladder. Eagle pitcher Joe Herrmann struck out seven.

Andy Bolster and Derren Newlin shared mound duties (for the losers). Each also hit safely to lead Hook & Ladder at the plate.

Elsewhere, after losing their first two, the Italian-American Sportsmen won two to even their record.

The Sportsmen combined all three of their hits in a five-run, fourth inning to defeat No. 1, 9-3. Jeff Petrone, Pat Kahny and John Petrone got the hits. No. 1, which outhit the Sportsmen, 6-3, launched a threat in the last inning on singles by Bobby Silverman, Morgan Moorman, Rod Brady and Rick Wilson's triple, but it fell short. Silverman had two hits for the losers.

In another outing, the Sportsmen's Pat Kahny was too much for Legion Post 76 to handle. He was touched for only one hit while striking out 12 as he fashioned a fine 3-0 shutout. Kahny doubled and Felix Brown tripled to lead the Sportsmen in hitting.

In another game, Post 76 evaded its record at 8-0 with a 7-5 decision over Elks.

Post 76, held to two hits, a triple by Pete Sotomayor and a single by Steve O'Neill, came from behind to win when they pushed over four runs in the last inning.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Eagles	4	0	1.000
Engine No. 3	4	2	1.000
Roma Elterna	2	2	.667
Post 76	2	2	.500
Sportsmen	2	2	.500
Elks	1	3	.250
Hook & Ladder	0	3	.000
Engine No. 1	0	4	.000

The PBA Baseball School for boys 7-12 is held each Saturday morning at Morquand Park, starting at 9.

TOURNAMENTS HELD
At Springdale Golf Club. Mrs. George Berry and Mrs. John Howard won the annual Jean McLean Tournament last week at Springdale Golf Club. A field of 50 completed in the two-day 36-hole medal play event. Full handicaps were used, with the winners carrying a 67-68-127. Second place, with a 63-65-128, went to Mrs. Pepper Constable and Mrs. Laurence Sanford.

In the July 4th Firecracker Tournament, 108 men and women were entered in better ball net play. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allaire, Jr. were the winners with a net 69.

Runners-up were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Page, net 63, while Mr. and Mrs. John Howard shot a net 64 for fourth place to tie with Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shays won the consolation prize.

In a semi-final match in the Governors' Cup tournament, Ross Shrader and Dick Lieber defeated Ken Dawes and Ed Conlin, 4 and 3. Play in this event is scheduled to be completed this weekend.

TWO CAPTAINS NAMED
In Baseball and Tennis. Todd Faulkner, Princeton shortstop, has become the first player in modern baseball history to be named captain of the sport here for two consecutive years. Elected a year ago as a sophomore.

REGISTER NOW

For 2d Tennis Session. The second session of instructional classes sponsored by the Princeton Community Tennis Program will begin Monday.

Those interested may enroll directly with any instructor at the Community Park courts during weekdays or by calling Mrs. Lewis Kraft at 924-4287.

There are classes for all abilities for boys third grade through 12th and for girls, grade four through 12. There are also lessons for beginner adults who may register through the YMCA and for intermediate and advance players. The latter may enroll directly with the Princeton University tennis coach John Conroy. Conroy is planning a special group of advanced older players interested in more intensive instruction. These will have the opportunity for one private lesson each week in addition to their regular class schedule. Complete information is available from Mrs. Kraft or Conroy.

RACES TIGHTEN UP

In Both RSL Divisions. A stunning upset of McGraw-Hill by RCA Labs B in the eastern division, and a triumph by Columbian Carbon over from-running NCA in the west has created deadlocks for first place in both divisions of the Business Softball League.

Winner in only three of nine contests this year, RCA B put together a strong defense with some timely hitting and handed undefeated McGraw-Hill its first loss of the season after eight victories. The 8-3 triumph was largely the work of Bob Nielson, who gave up only five hits and one walk to McGraw-Hill. In the field Ed Krieger, Joe Santossano and Vic Christiano led an alert defense.

Christiano also proved his worth at bat, getting three hits in three times up, while Bob Krieger went two for three. Tom Connelly and Mel Sanders also provided clutch hits. The score was close until the fifth, when a triple by Christiano and costly errors by the losers sent RCA B on its way to its first win over McGraw-Hill in two seasons.

McGraw-Hill's loss coupled with a 15-1 victory by Accelerator temporarily tied the two teams for first place in the east. Riding on the hitting of John Ruzcek, who went three for five with a homer, Eric Bergstrom's three for five, and Joe McPadden's three for four, Accelerator outlasted ETS for its eighth win. Wayne Quinton had a two-run homer and Tony Barone had three hits for the losers.

In a make-up game with FMC, Accelerator squeezed out a 6-4 win, aided by a timely two-run homer by Tom Wunderlick that provided the margin of victory. Pitcher Jack Bartow had two hits, as did Barry Hibbs, and Bergstrom.

Meanwhile over in the west, Columbian Carbon threw the division lead into a three-way tie with a 9-5 win over NCA. RCA Labs A won its game, leaving these teams tied for first with 7-2 records.

Barry Carroll, Al Anderson and Jim Wiedenhaefer all had two hits for Carbon and pitcher Bill Gehagen clouted a four-bagger. Jack Oberding had two hits for the losers.

RCA A batters were too much for Dow Jones, as the Labmen powered their way to an 11-4 decision. Winning pitcher Wally omore, he was chosen again upon completion of the 1968 season. No player since World War I has been a two-year captain in baseball for the Tigers.

Faulkner's leadership qualities were frequently credited with instilling a high degree of team spirit in the young Princeton nine. All of the eight positions save pitcher were frequently filled by sophomores and juniors.

The Tiger shortstop batted .257 a year ago and .265 this season, seven of his 18 hits in the recent campaign going for extra bases. Princeton compiled a 14-7-1 record including a 5-0 shutout over District II champion NYU.

The tennis team has named as its captain Bob Goeltz, whom Coach John Conroy lauds "the east's top collegiate player." In the number one position each of the past two years, he has paced the Tigers to first-place ties in the Eastern Tennis Association — in 1968 with Harvard and Penn and last spring with Harvard. Goeltz won three singles matches in the NCAA Tournament staged here in June. In doubles, he and his partner, Rich Howell, reached the quarter-finals before being eliminated, and their strong showing enabled Princeton to finish 13th, best showing of any team in the east.

LAPIDUS DOUBLE WINNER

In District Tennis Tournament. Mary Lapidus of Galbreath Drive won the girls' 16 singles crown in the fifth annual New Jersey District Junior Championships held last week on the Princeton University Courts. She then teamed with Dede Pickering of Princeton to win the doubles championship. They defeated Melinda Wil-
